The customer is able to withdraw the declaration of the contract within 14 days, without specification of reasons (e.g. via email, letter or fax), or - if the item is left over to you before the expiring date - by sending back the ordered item. The expiring date begins after receiving this instruction in writing, but not before receipt of the goods by the receiver (with a recurring delivery of similar items not before receipt of the first part of the delivery) and not before fulfillment of our information requirements corresponding to article 246 § 2 in union with § 1 paragraph 1 and 2 EGBGB as well as our duties according to § 312g paragraph 1 sentence 1 BGB in union with article 246 § 3 EGBGB.

A right of withdrawal does not exist.

Consequences of withdrawal

In case of an effective withdrawal, the received benefits of both parties have to be rewarded back, and where necessary, drawn profits (i.e. interests), have to be brought out. In case of a debasement of items and for uses (i.e. advantages in use) which cannot be brought out, can be brought out only partial or can be brought out in a downgraded condition, the customer has to grant us a compensation for lost value. In case of debasement of items, the customer only has to be held responsible for the compensation of lost value, if the debasement is caused by handling with the item, which means more than checking the functions and attributes of the item. By checking the functions and attributes it shall be understood to behave like it is usual and possible inside a shop. Liabilities to refunds of payments have to be accomplished within 30 days. The expiring date begins for the customer with the dispatch of the items or the desire of withdrawal, for the operator with the receipt.
